

Efstathios Professional Services

York Consortium
for Conservation and Craftsmanship

Conservation of Antiquities and Historical Objects

Efstathios' original background is in Archaeological conservation and he has worked as a Collections Conservator for a number of museums in the UK and overseas such as the Delphi Archaeological Museum and the Science Museum. He holds a first degree in Conservation of Antiquities and Works of Art and a MA in Historical Archaeology of the Modern World from the University of Bristol.

Efstathios' services are designed for organisations and individuals who are seeking for practical solutions in managing and preserving their collections within a sustainable budget.

Services include but are not limited to Collections Care Consultation, Conservation Surveys, Treatments on Historical and Industrial Artefacts, Collections Hazards management and Specialist support for Exhibitions and Loans.

Above left: Cosmetic Restoration, LNWR Open Carriage truck 11275, National Railway Museum

Above right: Grasshopper Stephenson Stationary Engine, Beamish Museum, surface cleaning and application of protective coating

Below: Exhibition Installation. Royal Charter c. 1444, Leathersellers' Company, London

Efstathios Tsolis
Beverley
East Riding of Yorkshire
UK

Telephone
+44(0) 7726419551

Email
info@efstathios.co.uk
Website
www.efstathios.co.uk

Specialist
Conservators
and Restorers